Swiss-born artist Louise Bonnet is a painter based in Los Angeles. She is represented by Galerie Max Hetzler, Berlin, and Nino Mier Gallery, Los Angeles. Bonnet explores melancholy, nostalgia, and displacement in her exaggerated, surrealist portraits. Her technique aims to disappear the artist's hand in favor of the character, emphasizing a duality that emerges out of what the painting depicts versus how it was created. Bonnet's recent exhibitions include Domestic Horror at Gagosian, New York, New Works at Nino Mier Gallery, Los Angeles, and Cliché at Almine Rech Gallery, New York. A testament to her newfound acclaim, Bonnet's monumental painting Cyclops, 2018, was recently acquired by the Los Angeles County Museum of Art.
