The dynamic duo are at it again: Susan and Michael Hort, the New York-based art patrons and philanthropists, have decamped to Miami Beach for the annual round of art fairs, including Art Basel, NADA, and Untitled. Here, in their own words and photographs, they tell us about their favorite works; keep an eye out for both old Hort favorites and new discoveries.

You can't really appreciate this Düsseldorf-based artist unless you see the work in person. It is multi-layered, with beautiful line quality.
