10 Things That Inspire Miranda July
BY Nathan Reese
The New York Times Style Magazine

“Louise Bonnet is a Los Angeles-based painter of round, fleshy, almost obscene shapes and people. But hers is a very clean, friendly cartoon world, so there’s this tension between harmlessness and perversion that is totally unsettling. I like that they’re kind of creepy, but you don’t feel like saying that because there’s actually nothing in it that’s sexual. So, you feel like, ‘Oh, maybe that’s just me.’”
